The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Davis in view of Sorbothane.

Claim 1 is rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the office action 08/22/05.

Davidson discloses an egg shaped hand exerciser and Sorbothane teaches manufacturing hand exercise devices of visco-elastic material as an obvious alternate material known in the art.
